THE KINDIG NURSERY

PHONE DIAL 3-0949, ROUTE 1
ELKHART, INDIANA

is located one mile east of Elkhart on U. S. Highway 20. The nursery is on the southwest corner at the first four corners after leaving Elkhart.

All nursery stock is shipped prepaid.

All stock is guaranteed to be true to name and in good growing condition at the time of delivery. Any stock that may seem to be not up to our guarantee must be returned to the nursery IMMEDIATELY upon receipt for adjustment. In no case will we be responsible further than we may replace the stock or refund the purchase price. We make every effort to ship stock at proper planting time and stock must not be allowed to dry out before planting.

In the case of dahlias, it is sometimes impossible to see eyes on some varieties and occasionally some roots are shipped which will not grow. If any dahlias do not come up within reasonable time, dig them up and if they do not show any sprouts, return them to us and we will replace them without charge.

We cannot afford to accept mail orders for less than $1.00.

We are happy to have visitors at our nursery. We like to have our customers see the stock we grow and ship. The most interesting time is August and September when the gladioli and dahlias are in full bloom.

On all orders, please state the date you wish shipment made so as to arrive at the proper time for planting in your area.

PERENNIALS

BLEEDING HEART, the old fashioned variety of grandmother's garden. Fine 2 year roots.

Each .60, 3 for $1.60, 12 for $6.00 postpaid

HARDY CHRYSANTHEMUMS, cushion types and other dwarf hardy varieties. Please note that we furnish the whole clump of field grown plants and not little greenhouse grown rooted cuttings. These large plants insure successful transplanting and a profusion of blooms.

ALGONQUIN, yellow with a larger flower but not as many blossoms as Acacia.

CHIPPEWA, deep purple, large flower.

IRENE, white pompom with yellow center.

ACACIA, clear lemon yellow.

BRONZE CUSHION, opens bronze pink fading to tan.

DEAN KAY, finest clear pink, heavy bloomer.

POLAR ICE, early pure white, does not turn pink. No earlier or better white.

POMPNETTE, large reddish tan.

RED FLARE, one of the best and hardiest of the bright reds.

ROBERT BRYDEN, deep velvety red.

ROSE CUSHION, best of all the pink cushion mums.

SANDRA, clear red with yellow center.

Any of the above, each .50, 3 for $1.35, 12 for $4.50

DELPHINIUM

PACIFIC HYBRIDS, these delphiniums come in a complete range of colors from pure white to the darkest violet. Colors are mixed and we cannot supply special colors. The flower heads are very tall and many of the florets are double and many are in two or three tones of color. These plants are in bloom as this is being written.

Field Grown 1 year old plants

Each .35, 3 for .90, 12 for $3.00 postpaid

CULTURE OF DELPHINIUMS

While delphiniums will bloom when planted in most any location, a warm sunny place with plenty of moisture at blooming time gives best results. In planting delphinium, be careful to plant them shallow. If planted too deep the crowns will rot and die. Delphiniums like a sweet soil. A little lime added to a sour soil should condition it properly. As delphiniums and Madonna and Salonika liles bloom at the same time, a very pleasing effect is secured by planting the delphiniums behind the lilies as their blooming stems are longer.

LILIES

REGAL, large white, July.

Each .35, 3 for .90, 12 for $3.25

ELEGANS, orange flowers in July.

Each .35, 3 for .90, 12 for $3.25

MAGIC, pink lilies in August.

SALONIKA, similar to Madonna but bears seed.

Each .50, 3 for $1.25, 12 for $4.65

All Postpaid

Lilies are shipped as follows: Salonikas, July to September; Regals, October to May; E'legans, October to May and Magic lilies, July to September. Order with your other items and the lilies will be sent at the proper time.

Plant Salonika lilies so the tip of the bulb is only an inch or two below the level of the ground, as they are bottom rooters. Plant Regal and Elegans lilies at least six inches deep as they are stem rooters. Magic lilies should be planted so the bottom of the bulb is at least four inches deep.

Oriental Poppies

These beautiful perennials should have a conspicuous place on every home planting. They are absolutely hardy, stand all sorts of neglect and still bring an abundance of bloom every year.

JEANNE MAWSON, very large salmon pink.

JOYCE, clear cherry red.

MRS. PERRY, soft pale pink.

SALMON GLOW, salmon pink, double.

Painted Daisies

(Pyrethrum Rubrum)

A wide variety of shades, mostly in shades of red. Mostly single, some double. Long lived and an abundant bloomer.

Each .35, 3 for $1.00, 12 for $3.00 postpaid

Every perennial we offer is hardy in Northern Indiana. We prefer spring planting of such perennials as will transplant at that time. Often quite hardy plants will be injured by the winter when planted in the fall. A light mulch of straw, weeds or leaves is always desirable with perennials regardless of when planted.

IRIS

The iris we offer are all very choice. Part of them were Dykes Medal winners and sold at one time for from $10 to $20 per root. These are all of the spring blooming type. Order these with your regular order and they will be shipped to you in August which is the time they are nearest dormant. Those who send in early orders may have them in April or early May.

ALICE HARDING, white with blue lines.

CLARA NOYES, yellow with red lines.

DEPUTE NUMBLOT, wine red.

DAUNTLESS, shades of violet and bronze.

WE DO NOT SELL LESS THAN THREE BULBS

OF GLADIOLI

SOME SUGGESTIONS REGARDING GLADIOLI

In order to have the longest blooming season, bulbs should be planted at intervals of about two weeks from April 1 in the north and earlier in the south. To help in the control of diseases, bulbs should be treated in one of the many disinfectants recommended for that purpose. Your seed and insecticide dealer can give specific directions. Gladioli do not need particularly rich soil. We have seen beautiful glads on very poor soil but well watered. Weeds must be kept under control to get good flowers. Bulbs should be planted at least 4 in. deep. On light soil they may be planted at least 6 in. deep to support stems. If it should happen there are thrips in your neighborhood and the florets are deformed by them, the plants can be sprayed and thrips controlled. When any thrips are present, as soon as dug the bulbs should be dusted with 5% DDT. It will completely control them in storage.

Late in the fall but before the ground freezes, the bulbs should be dug and tops cut off. Then allow the bulbs to dry for a few days in a cool airy place. For winter storage, a temperature of 40 to 50 degrees is desirable. Storage near a furnace or in too warm a room often ruins perfectly good bulbs. A month or so after digging, the old corm, bulblets and loose hucks may be removed. Good bulbs will last for years.

DAHLIAS Yellow Varieties

AVALON—One of the best medium size yellows. It has long stems and is a good cut flower. Roots each .45, 3 for $1.15

SPECIAL DAHLIA OFFER

We are growing this year a mixture of nearly all the dahlias listed and many others. As a great many of our customers wish a low priced group of good dahlias but are not too particular about the colors, we are offering this assortment. With over 100 varieties represented in this mixture, no one should get two roots of the same variety. We are very sure that no equal offer will be made in America this year.

10 roots unlabeled for $3.00 postpaid

Many dahlia catalogs list nothing but the very recent introductions regardless of their merit as compared with the older dahlias. We know that most of our customers want beautiful dahlias whether they were introduced this year or twenty years ago. We therefore do not list new introductions until we have had an opportunity to test them in our nursery for several years and compare them with similar older dahlias. If they prove superior, we add them to our list and drop the older ones. If they do not measure up to their advertising, they are discarded. We throw away many more than we list. Because a plant is new does not guarantee that it is better.

PLEASE NOTICE

We ship only dahlias west of a line drawn north and south through Denver, Colorado, except at the purchaser's expense. Such shipments will be sent by express collect.

On all orders, please state the date you wish shipment made so as to arrive at the proper time for planting in your area.

ROSES

In the following we have tried to offer the best in each class regardless of how new they were. All of them have been tested in all parts of the U. S. and are among the most satisfactory in blooming qualities and vigor. We have no hesitancy in saying that you cannot buy better roses than our first grade No. 1 stock.

Everblooming Hybrid Teas

POINSETTA, velvety red of poinsetta shade. It does not fade in opening and is an excellent cut flower.

YELLOW CONDESSA, a good clear yellow.

EDITH NELLIE PERKINS, bi-color, copper, tan and red.

ETOILE de HOLLAND, bright dark red, large, semi-double, fragrant.

BETTY UPRICHARD, one of the finest of the pink roses.

PRES. HOOVER, giant blooms of roses, red, copper and tan.

CHRISTOPHER STONE, crimson scarlet, fragrant, one of the very best.

K. A. VICTORIA, one of the oldest but still the best white on the market. Pure white, very double.

MRS. P. S. DUPONT, golden reddish buds, opening a deep golden yellow. Beautiful long pointed buds. Long lasting.

TALISMAN, probably the most popular bi-color on the market. Orange yellow changing to salmon with red and gold.

Any of the above $1.00 each, 5 for $4.50, 10 for $8.00

FRUIT TREES

We usually have about ten of the leading varieties of apples, sweet and sour cherries, Bartlett pears, several varieties of plums, grapes, peaches, apricots, currants, gooseberries, rhubarb and asparagus.

Hibiscus or Mallows

We have the most magnificent mallows imaginable. They come in red, pink and white and have flowers as much as 10 inches in diameter. Root divisions. each .50

Hemerocallis or Day Lilies

We have about a dozen varieties of day lilies in many shades of yellow and a range of blooming from late June to August. Root divisions vary in price from .25 to .50.

IT COSTS VERY LITTLE MORE

to have a good variety of any kind of nursery stock than a poor one. It costs a little more for the original stock but the growing costs are the same, the harvesting is the same, the storage, packing and shipping are the same. So we make every effort to get the best in its class for you for we know you will be happier with it.

CULTURE OF DAHLIAS

the terminal bud on each branch gets to the size of a dime, pinch off the side buds on that branch and you will get a much finer flower.

Do not over water. Give them a good soaking about once a week when they need it and then let them alone until they need it again. A small amount of a nitrate fertilizer scattered on the ground around the plant before watering if sprinkling is practiced will push the growth.

Experiment with this and don't use too much as it will hurt the flowering.

For leaf hoppers and red spiders, we prefer a dust of sulfur which contains about 3% of DDT. We prefer to put it on in the mornings when the dew is still on the plants. There is trouble with plant lice, nicotine sulphate is the best material to use in the spray.

At the end of the season, after the plants are frozen down, then dig the roots. Great care must be used in the digging or the necks of the roots will be broken and then they are ruined. Two persons, each with a shovel, can lift the roots up and set them on the ground with very little disturbing of the roots. Then carefully remove the dirt. Cut the top back close to the roots, and cover with dry sand or sawdust. The covering will prevent the evaporation which ruins roots.

When the eyes begin to show in the spring, the clump of roots may be divided so that each root will have an eye attached. Many persons prefer to leave two or three roots together but we find no advantage in this. If desired the roots can then be potted or put in a cold frame and later transplanted to the garden when the weather is suitable.

CULTURE OF DAHLIAS

There is very little gained by extra early planting. Dahlias make most of their growth in the later part of the summer. In the latitude of Northern Indiana from May 15 to June 1 is the proper time for planting. Dahlias are vigorous growers and so will do best in a good soil with plenty of water and good drainage.

A good way to plant is to dig a trench six or eight inches deep in which to lay dahlias. Fill to a depth of two to three inches. When the dahlias get above the trench gradually fill it up or even hill it up as this will support the dahlia stock. In field culture we plant the roots 15 inches apart. In gardens where it is desirable to grow a large plant with as many blooms as possible, it is better to plant the roots at least 2 feet apart.

To prevent the plants growing too tall and to increase the number of flowering branches, when the plant has six or eight leaves, pinch out the top bud. This will force out branches from the side of the stock and will make a more sturdy plant.

To produce the finest flowers it is desirable to practice disbudding. If left to itself the plant will produce more flowering buds than it can grow to the largest size. When
